

EPOXY HEART

BY HILA COHEN

Artist Statement

As an artist, I am captivated by the ever-changing energy and beauty of nature, and I strive to capture its essence in my artwork. My name is Hila Cohen, and I am a self-taught mixed media artist, specializing in resin artwork.

Drawing from my lifelong passion for art, I have developed a visual language that merges elements from nature into emotive and personal expressions. My creations reflect my passion for capturing the fleeting moments of nature's power and serenity, its movement and stability, its colors and contrasting energies that change with each passing moment.

My artistic process revolves around the interplay of fluidity and depth. By working in layers and pouring technique, I create multidimensional artworks that embody transparency, space, and flow. This technique allows me to convey the movement of wind, the migration of sands, and the endless rhythm of the sea waves, resulting in artworks that evoke a sense of both realism and abstraction.

Incorporating a variety of mediums and materials, including sea sand collected from around the world, my artwork is a testament to the profound connection between spirit and matter. Each element resonates with the energies of the earth, water, air, and fire, creating a vibrant and dynamic interplay of forces. The sand, imbued with the unique energy of each place, adds an authentic and meaningful dimension to my creations, enhancing their depth, symbolism, and spiritual significance.

The mesmerizing blend of pigments suspended in glossy resin along with other different textures captures the magic of nature, inviting viewers to embark on a visual journey into an enchanting world of tranquility and wonder.

When my artwork finds its way into designed spaces, whether in private homes, offices, foyers, or halls, it brings with it a gust of refreshing and healing energy, enlivening the atmosphere and inspiring introspection. The colors and materials are carefully chosen and correspond with the environment and purpose of the space, illuminating and charging it with positive energies that foster concentration, movement, and renewal from nature.

With my art sold locally and globally, I'm excited to share my passion for nature, my artistic approach, and my belief that art has the power to inspire, heal, and transform spaces.
